Gray Can=Acceptable Garbage

RESIDENTIAL SOLID WASTE – Residential Solid Waste as defined for collection shall include garbage, waste paper, food and liquid containers, limited amounts of yard and garden wastes, and other non-compostable wastes normally produced or used at a personal residence. Small amounts of construction waste are acceptable if contained in the cans provided and weighted accordingly for accessible removal.

CONTAINERS--Contractor shall remove refuse from the provided 96 gallon container with up to 2 additional plastic bags or containers not to exceed 35 gallons or weight of 60 lbs each. It shall not be contractor's responsibility to clean up refuse spilled from a broken bag or tipped over container. Refuse not placed in containers as herein noted may be left at the residence. Cardboard box containers shall be collected if they contain dry material, are securely closed and are of sufficient strength to hold the waste.

MISC. WASTE—Wastes to be collected are as defined as Residential Solid Waste. Excessive rock, dirt, sod, concrete or building materials are not considered normal household waste. Carpet, furniture, or other miscellaneous household items will be removed at additional cost billed directly from the hauler to the residence. Excess amounts will need prior arrangements made. In no case is the contractor authorized to collect or haul hazardous wastes as defined by the State of Kansas.

NOT RECYCLABLE

Recycling centers are operating more efficiently than ever. However, certain “offenders” can slow down the process or contaminate the load. You can help by keeping these items out of your bin.

- Loose plastic bags and film, shower curtains
- Minimal foam cups or containers (recyclable, but inefficient to the machine at this time)
- Needles or medical waste
- Contaminated fast food packaging/utensils, food waste
- Hoses, tires, tubes
